Consortium “I Vini del Piemonte”

"I Vini del Piemonte" is a Consortium among wineries of Piemonte, their associations and consortium of producers. It was born from the will of the producers themselves through the Association “Strada del Barolo e grandi vini di Langa” the Barolo area wine trail, with the full support of the other Piedmontese Strade del Vino.

The will of the doc and docg wine producers of Piemonte is, through "I Vini del Piemonte", to consolidate internal and external markets and to gain new markets. It has the objective to realize advertising initiatives and of territorial marketing in order to consolidate, in the rest of Italy and abroad, the market of the wine and the Piedmontese wine tourism. Barolo & Friends Event is an example.

The Consorzio “I Vini del Piemonte” is in charge of the planning, the organization and the coordination and development of advertising and marketing actions in order to value the Piedmontese vitivinicole productions and of enotourism on the Piedmontese territory. Objectives that do not enter in conflict with the protection objectives, defence and valorisation of the consortiums of protection, but together with those work to promote the great wines of Piemonte and to increase the enogastronomical tourism through specific initiatives.

Its forces are the territory and the producers that live and work there. The Consortium wants to strength the image abroad of all of the regional agricultural patrimony throughout common actions and the participation to fairs and events in Italy, in synergy with the protagonists of the Piedmontese agricultural and food-system.

Dogliani DOCG:

a new perspective for the wines of piedmontese tradition

In a country with high wine productivity as our, research and development of quality production process must be constantly moving and evolving.

A vine, always considered a minor vine, through various milestones has achieved the Docg.

A new modern, aggressive and tenacious way to interpret the role of wine expressed by wine producers, who are able to create a viable alternative to the aristocracy of the wine, that always represented the Piedmont.

Very important studies, realised by universities and research centers have helped to enhance the piedmontese vine. Actually the 95% of regional production is obtained from indigenous grapes varieties, real power and wealth of a country with an immense variety of landscape and culture.

The wine represent the business card of a place, with its traditions.

A long exciting trip, different steps to the Docg:

1st November 2006, the producers are allowed for the production of Dogliani Docg wine

2011, new disciplinary rules combine the two, Doc and Docg, in a unique Docg.

People think that Dolcetto wine is a simple fresh wine. The Docg guarantee a new important personality and perspective to this indigenous vine.

Several little towns in Dogliani area, included the area of Monregalese, will represent the Dogliani Docg and Dogliani Docg Superior wine.

Strada del Barolo e grandi vini di Langa

Barolo and other great wines of the Langa region are the protagonists of a tourist and cultural route that embraces a unique landscape. Wineries and farms, restaurants, specialties, accommodations, castles and museums too, are members of this association: they all believe in the motto “top quality at all levels”.

The Strada del Barolo e grandi vini di Langa is a marked wine trail that crosses the hills of the Barolo district in the Langhe region, taking in wineries and farms to offer its visitors the chance to meet the “king” of wines, the Barolo wine at the heart of its production.

The project has been carried out by the municipality union "Colline di Langa e del Barolo" and by the Regional Enoteca of Barolo, and has been approved both by Regione Piemonte and the Wine District “Langhe Roero e Monferrato”. It is a showcase for the enogastronomic, cultural, architectonical and environmental richness of the Langa di Barolo area.

A trip in the heart of the Langhe

The Strada del Barolo e grandi vini di Langa is an enticing trip to the heart and spirit of the Langhe region: wine is the main protagonist, but in the background visitors will also enjoy its rich heritage of culture and traditions and its thriving nature with a landscape that changes with the seasons, as well as the strong but gentle personality of its inhabitants, who always offer warm hospitality to their visitors.

The Strada connects the communes of Alba, Barolo, Castiglione Falletto, Cherasco, Diano d’Alba, Dogliani, Grinzane Cavour, La Morra, Monchiero, Monforte d’Alba, Montelupo Albese, Novello, Roddi, Roddino, Rodello, Serralunga d’Alba, Sinio and Verduno: they make up one of the most beautiful regions in Piedmont, which is also the territory of origin of some Piedmontese red wines which have become world-famous.

The Members of the Strada

The Strada was founded three years ago and at present has about one hundred members: according to the last census there are almost 100 members; in the category of wineries and accommodation facilities, as well as Botteghe del Vino and Regional Enotecas (that of Barolo, located in the famous and unique Falletti Castle, and that of Grinzane Cavour, which is also housed in one of the most typical and famous castles in the Langhe).

Together with wineries and accommodation facilities, also restaurants, food producers, museums, castles and tourist attractions have joined the Strada: all these members offer the visitors a unequalled enogastronomic and cultural route that can unfold all the emotions and feelings that the Langa arouses in its visitors as few other places in the world can.

Visitors are offered an image of quality, which is confirmed by the members of the Strada. The Regulations of the association include some standards that the facilities have to fulfill: their motto is “quality at all levels”, both concerning enogastronomy, hospitality and respect for the environment.

A green trail

The Regulations include general rules, such as opening hours, the exhibition of the logo of the Strada and the planning of promotional activities for the route, and they also aim to qualify the members as environmentally friendly facilities and to arouse special attention towards the environment.

Respect for the environment is the main standard that accommodation facilities and holiday farms have to comply with in order to obtain the logo of the Strada del Barolo e grandi vini di Langa; at the same time they have to invite visitors to follow “virtuous” rules, such as preferring tap water to drink, eating fresh bread and grissini instead of pre-packed ones, and using tablecloths made of paper instead of plastic.
